

Johnson, Humphrey Poised For Battle

HAPPY DEMOCRATS. President Lyndon B. Johnson's choice for vice president of the United States on the Democratic ticket brought a big smile to his face late Wednesday at Atlantic City, N. J. The choice, Minnesota's Sen. Hubert Humphrey, seemed quite pleased also as he waves to the crowd of delegates and visitors in Convention Hall. (UPI Telephoto)

Physically Fit For Active Life

Johnson, 56 Today, Gets Assurance Of 4 Doctors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, 56 years old today, has his party's overwhelming endorsement for another term in office and his doctors' assurance he is physically fit for "an active vigorous life."

For a birthday party, he was assured a rousing reception from the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City, where he goes tonight to accept formally the full-term nomination handed him without contest Wednesday night.

The verdict of four doctors on his physical condition was disclosed by the President Wednesday as he led newsmen on a 4½-mile hike, talking as he circled 15 laps around the back driveway of the White House.

Loping easily along in the high-humidity heat Johnson convinced less-athletic newsmen of the doctors' finding that his "exercise tolerance continues to be superb" despite a serious heart attack in 1955.

He took a few more fast laps later with his choice for a running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota; took time out for an informal birthday

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The team of Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota squared off today for the 1964 presidential battle with thundering Democratic convention acclaim behind them as the party nominees.

All that remained to kick off the hostilities with the Republican Goldwater-Miller ticket was President Johnson's formal acceptance tonight of the presidential nomination he won by acclamation Wednesday night. Humphrey also will formally accept the vice presidential nomination.

Johnson was expected to tell delegates, assembled for a session at which the late President John F. Kennedy was to be memorialized, that his will be a campaign aimed at achieving prosperity and peace.

He might also give the party faithful something to yell about by jibing at GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater and his running mate, Rep. William E. Miller.

In a dramatic turn to a convention that had followed form so closely it was on the dull side, Johnson broke a string of precedents.

The President had held on to his secret that Humphrey was his choice for the vice presidential nomination until he was ready to board a plane to Atlantic City. Humphrey, who had flown to Washington at the President's command, was at his side.

Taking the senator by the arm, Johnson walked over to newsmen standing behind a barrier and said: "Meet the next vice president."

The world thus learned of the selection, about three hours before many delegates to this convention knew that it had been made. No modern president had ever kept counsel about a running mate so long.

Johnson, Humphrey and Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., who also had been summoned to the white house from Atlantic City, then boarded a plane. Johnson

Khanh, Two Others Will Guide Viet

Move Comes Amid New Riots; Three Killed By Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Diplomatic sources said today military leaders named Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh and two other generals to run South Viet Nam.

The move came amid new riots in which troops reportedly killed three demonstrators.

There was no immediate confirmation from the government of the new triumvirate.

The ruling military junta has been trying for two days to name a chief of government to fill the vacancy left when Khanh stepped down as president and scrapped the constitution in the face of mounting demonstrations from Buddhists and student groups.

Today's casualties were reported when government troops fired on a mob of 2,000 which tried to enter a compound where junta members were meeting to choose a new head of state.

A Roman Catholic group pushed toward the military compound and a Saigon radio station, Buddhist and student groups massed to confront the Catholics at the radio station.

The demonstrators demanded that the council resist Buddhist and student demands that it step down and pave the way for civilian rule.

Reliable sources said that Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, former minister of defense; and Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, former president, were named with Khanh as members of the triumvirate.

An announcement received in Saigon by diplomatic sources said the three would rule until a national congress elects a head of government.

Khanh stepped down Tuesday in the face of widespread student demonstrations. Minh had been figurehead chief of state until 11 days ago when Khanh proclaimed himself president under a new constitution.

Minh was ousted in the shake-up touching off student charges that Khanh had made himself head of a military dictatorship. A popular Buddhist leader, Minh had directed the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem's government last November.

party at which his staff presented him with a desk; and capped an active day with a flight to the convention city which lasted into the early morning hours.

In the course of the 90-minute afternoon marathon, Johnson: — Foresaw a Democratic victory in November, saying various polls show "we run, generally speaking, 60-70 per cent" compared with 25 to 30 per cent for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican.

City Prisoner Flees Jail In Phone Pretext

Police continued a search today for a Cuyahoga Falls man who fled past a desk officer at police headquarters Wednesday night and escaped after being given permission to answer a supposed long distance telephone call from a woman friend.

Fred L. Talbot, being held for a preliminary hearing Sept. 2 in Municipal Court on a concealed weapons charge and as a parole violator, raced past Patrolman Robert B. Pyle, desk officer, shortly after 9:30 last night when the officer said he finally granted permission for the call.

Miami Lashed As Cleo Plows Devastating Path

Hurricane Rips Southeast Florida; Heavy Damage, Injuries Reported

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Cleo smashed into the rich and thickly populated southeast coast of Florida today, caused heavy damage and plowed a devastating path northward.

The storm, a small but vicious killer, churned across Miami with surprising fury, lashing the city with winds up to 115 miles an hour, torrential rain and damaging tides.

Unofficial estimates placed damage in the millions from the first hurricane to hit Miami in four years, and one of the worst since 1926.

Looters raided damaged shops and stores throughout the city. Numerous injuries — most from flying glass — were reported, but there were no known fatalities. Hospital held staffs overtime to treat the injured.

Miami and Miami Beach, a city of plush homes and swanky resort hotels just across storm-tossed Biscayne Bay, were plunged into darkness by power failures.

Minutes after the hurricane struck, the only electric lights in the normally brilliantly lit cities shone dimly from hospitals and other buildings with auxiliary power.

The eye of the storm, which has left a rising toll of dead in the Caribbean, moved directly over Miami, after indications it would pass out at sea.

Then it swirled slowly on to batter Fort Lauderdale and Palm Beach, famed play place of the wealthy, some 65 miles to the north.

The Weather Bureau said it was expected to continue its northward course at 11 miles an hour through the day, then veer

GOP Nominee Cruises Off Southern California

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater sought privacy at sea today after thrusting the guerrilla war in South Viet Nam squarely into his campaign against President Johnson.

While the Democratic National Convention nominated Johnson and chose Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota to run with the President, the Republican nominee for the White House cruised the waters off Southern California.

Lolling against the stern rail of a borrowed 83-foot yacht Wednesday, Goldwater: —Declared he thinks the Johnson administration is trying to negotiate a settlement of the Southeast Asian fighting before Election Day; said that timing would be wrong and added he fears such an agreement would be a giveaway to the Communists.

—Said some form of negotiations with Red China "might be profitable" — when pro-Western forces can deal from a position of strength in Southeast Asia.

—Labeled the U.S.-backed war against Communists in South Viet Nam an issue of major concern to the voters in the presidential race.

Goldwater, striking a theme he raised in Cleveland, Ohio, two days ago, said he expects to hear "most any day" of a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam.

The senator told reporters at the floating news conference in Catalina Island's Avalon harbor his "political bones" tell him

Johnson hadn't been scheduled to visit the convention until today. But as soon as his nomination was acclaimed with a tumultuous, banner waving, flag-flying demonstration, he strode to the platform.

Flanked by his wife and two daughters, he said he was happy about the honor done him. He said he would be back to tell the delegates, who bulged the hall to overflowing, about his plans for "an overwhelming victory for our party and our nation" in the November balloting.

He complimented the delegates on a platform "on which I am proud to stand" and on their settlement of delegate seating

UAW Points To Chrysler To Chrysler For Strike

Sept. 9 Deadline Set For Walkout If Contract Talks Fail

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has singled out Chrysler Corp. as its No. 1 strike target in efforts to secure new contracts for the nation's half-million auto plant workers.

UAW President Walter Reuther told newsmen Wednesday night that the walkout at Chrysler would begin at 10 a.m. Sept. 9 if no settlement is forthcoming by that time.

Reuther said Chrysler, General Motors and Ford — the auto industry's Big Three — all had adopted a "narrow, selfish attitude" in negotiations and are denying workers their fair share or record breaking profits.

The union's contracts with all three firms expire Monday, but Reuther said the strike deadline was set beyond Labor Day to allow several extra days at the bargaining table in efforts to avoid a walkout.

President Johnson is expected to open his campaign in Detroit's Cadillac Square on Labor Day.

Observers have pointed out that with a auto strike in progress, the President might have found such an appearance before a labor rally to be embarrassing.

Reuther visited President Johnson in the White House Wednesday, but he denied that the President's Labor Day plans had any influence on the decision to set Sept. 9 — two days after the holiday — as the strike date.

Pointing out that Chrysler is the nation's seventh largest corporation, Reuther said the firm was selected because it had what he termed "a economic and moral obligation," to repay the UAW for 1961 contract concessions.

At that time, he contended, Chrysler was in deep financial trouble and there was a question of whether the company was going to survive.

Chrysler is now the second most profitable company in the auto industry, Reuther said, earning $114.4 million after taxes during the first six months of this year. This, he said, was a 26 per cent return on its investment.

Hanoverton Youth Killed By Hunter

LISBON — An 11-year-old Hanoverton area boy, hunting for groundhogs in a hayfield on a Hanover Township farm early Wednesday evening, lost his life in an accidental shooting when another hunter, Angelo A. Frederick, 46, of Alliance mistook him for game.

The victim was George Edward Gorman, son of Paul Gorman of Winona and Mrs. Evelyn Windle Kuzma of Gas Tax Rd. Hanoverton R. D., who would have entered the sixth grade at United School next week.

The tragedy took place at 7:20 p.m. on Arthur Ritchie's farm on McCann Rd. one and a fourth miles northwest of Hanoverton.

Frederick and a companion, Albert Leasure, also of Alliance, had arrived at the farm about the woman to speak with the prisoner.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi identified the woman as Mrs. Mary Ann Beatty, now of Cuyahoga Falls and estranged wife of Charles E. Beatty of Vine St., who had filed the concealed weapons charge against Talbot.

Talbot had been held in the city jail since Aug. 10 after being returned from Cuyahoga Falls by East Liverpool police on Beatty's warrant charging that Talbot carried a concealed .32-caliber automatic pistol. Beatty told police that Talbot had threatened him with the gun.

Talbot's case had been continued twice and his bond had been set at $1,000. A detainer also was placed against the 26-year-old former city resident by a probation officer charging him with violating terms of his parole on a forgery conviction, police said.

Officer Pyle said Mrs. Beatty had made several calls to the police department since Talbot was returned here, asking to speak to the prisoner, but had been turned down.

The woman called earlier last night, the desk officer related, and again was refused permission to speak to the prisoner.

The woman made a second call and told Officer Pyle it was of "utmost importance" that she talk with Talbot.

In the earlier calls, Officer Pyle said Mrs. Beatty told him she was working in Cuyahoga Falls and was unable to get to East Liverpool to see Talbot during visiting hours at the jail.

The officer said he finally decided to permit Talbot to answer the phone on the counter in the headquarters.

When the prisoner went to the counter, Officer Pyle said he stepped back near the doorway and glanced at the cell block. As he did, he heard footsteps and Talbot shot past him and through the narrow corridor to Peach Alley.

Pyle chased Talbot down Peach Alley and across to the city-owned parking lot on W. 6th St. opposite City Hall. The unarmed officer said he gave up the chase to return to headquarters to alert officers in three cruisers.

Pyle explained that desk officers generally do not wear side arms in the office because of frequent trips to the cellblock. However, the side arms are placed behind the counter.

Despite a search by the three cruisers, officers were unable to locate Talbot.

The telephone calls made by Mrs. Beatty prior to last night reportedly were placed from Cuyahoga Falls, Officer Pyle said, explaining he assumed the calls last night also were made from the Summit County city.

However, police learned that Mrs. Beatty was seen in East Liverpool yesterday in a white 1957 Ford convertible with a blacktop. The auto had a temporary 10-day tag but the numbers are not known, Officer Pyle said.

Couple Given Term In Delinquency Case

LISBON — An East Palestine man and woman were sentenced to the County Jail Tuesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of their children.

Donald E. Gorby, 38, and Mildred L. Aldridge, 32, both of 87 N. Market St., were each sentenced to six months, with four months suspended on good behavior. They were charged by Police Chief Wallace Dilworth, after he investigated a fight at their home.

The two were residing together with their children, thought not married, court said.

an hour earlier than the boy and his father had been granted permission to hunt on the property. Frederick hunted there three or four times previously this summer.

When the Gormans arrived, they were also given permission to hunt, but were told that the other two men were on the property and were cautioned to avoid that area.

The boy was lying on the ground with his rifle on an iron stand to help steady it, looking in the opposite direction, about 140 feet from where Frederick stood. His father was hunting on a ridge a hill away.

Frederick, not knowing anyone else was using the farm, saw just the top of the victim's head and, thinking it a groundhog, fired one shot from his Ranger .22-caliber rifle. The bullet entered the back of the boy's head.

Constable Roy Painter of Hanover Township, assisted by Bill Meier of Butler Township, investigated and Dr. William Kolozsi, county coroner, ruled accidental shooting.

The youngster was an honor student in school and played two seasons of Little League baseball.

Born in Salem Dec. 31, 1952, he attended the New Garden Methodist Church.

In addition to his parents, he leaves his step-father, Charles Kuzma of Hanover T.R.D., and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Gorman, of Hallandale, Fla.

Loyalty Oath Farce

A substantial difference between the Democratic and Republican parties has come to light in the loyalty oath farce put on by the Democrats in their convention.

Here were many of the same people who inveighed against loyalty oaths by public employees going through the motions of demanding loyalty oaths from each other at the outset of a national campaign.

But in the preceding Republican convention, when it became plain some members of the party had turned cold about both its platform and its presidential candidate, shoulders were shrugged, hands were wrung and the general attitude was: Maybe things will look better in November than they look in July.

THERE WAS NO frantic talk about loyalty oaths at San Francisco and no scouring into the wilderness for failure to go through the motions of taking them.

Indeed, one of the chief dissenters, Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of New York, pointed out philosophically when he got home that any lip service he might give to a presidential candidate he didn't like wouldn't be taken seriously anyway.

Many years ago when Henry Agard Wallace was one of the sages of the Democratic party, he had an idea about lining up the members for loyalty inspection and cutting off the prerogatives of those who didn't go down the line for party measures. His idea died a-borning and was forgotten, like Mr. Wallace himself.

IN THE UNITED STATES, a man's political coloration is what he says it is.

Frank J. Lausche of Ohio can call himself a Democrat, run in the Democratic primary and even vote with his party on the rare occasions when he doesn't vote with the Republicans.

Or Kenneth Keating can call himself a Republican, be a delegate to the Republican National Convention and think like a Democrat when he feels like it, which is a good part of the time.

There are no card-carriers in U.S. politics—not yet.

Sen. Mansfield Makes Sense

The majority leader of the Senate, Mike Mansfield of Montana, has earned a reputation for sagacity. He earned it by making sense when he talked.

He made sense last week when he talked about the United States and the Congo. He was commenting on a U.S. decision to send planes and personnel to the Congo, where the fighting that never really stopped has blazed up again in the vacuum left by withdrawal of United Nations forces. He said:

"Unilateral United States involvement can hardly serve our own interests or the long-range interests of the Congolese people. We must resist the urge to try to solve every problem where it crops out. The jungle of emergent African politics is marked with pitfalls for the unwary outsider. If we plunge into this difficulty on the mistaken assumption that we can resolve it or even influence its evolution without a massive involvement, we may well pay an enormous price."

This makes sense. It makes sense for our involvement in South Viet Nam, which began as a limited commitment of technical assistance and now has grown into a massive involvement, complete with casualty lists and international complications that could plunge the United States into another Korean War.

And what do all these involvements — Korea, Viet Nam and the Congo — have in common? The threat of Communist influence.

Americans are told they must sacrifice life and treasure to keep communism from spreading into new territory. This has been the fixed motive for all foreign aid, all military assistance, all technical missions.

A sagacious man who leads the Democratic party in the U.S. Senate wonders if his country may be taking in too much territory when it monkeys with the Congo.

The rest of us wonder if the dirtiest trick we could play on Communists would be to let them get tangled up in the Congo and perhaps in Viet Nam by U.S. default. Let them exhaust themselves trying to do the impossible.

Col. Glenn Had An Accident

If John Glenn hadn't slipped and hit his head on the rim of a bathtub last February, he might very well be Ohio's Democratic nominee for the U.S. Senate running against Robert Taft Jr.

Ohioans disposed to think of Robert Kennedy's out-of-state candidacy for the U.S. Senate in New York as unusual should not ignore the John Glenn situation. Col. Glenn had less contact with Ohio when he made his decision to run than Attorney General Kennedy has had with New York. It was unusual, too.

It signifies something about the attorney general's thinking in this matter that he was believed to have given Col. Glenn the advice that caused him to file in Ohio against incumbent Sen. Stephen M. Young.

The thinking, of course, was obvious. It was built on the indisputable assumption that the U.S. Marine hero who had been the first American to circle the earth in a space capsule could swamp Sen. Young with his glamor. It wouldn't matter to most Democratic voters that Col. Glenn was bringing nothing to the political role he sought but a winning personality, intelligence and good intentions. Least of all would it matter that he was completely out of touch with Ohio. His name was the thing.

New York Republicans say they will fight a Kennedy candidacy in court, but the have no assurance of winning. To be sure, he lives in Virginia, votes in Massachusetts, where he was born, and works in the District of Columbia. But there is no law that says a candidate must be a native or even a voter of the state in which he runs for the Senate. And in New York the nominees are chosen in party conventions, not by rank-and-file voters.

Col. Glenn might have been in a Senate race in Ohio under circumstances only slightly more unusual than a Robert Kennedy Senate candidacy in New York. In fact, we may be in the process of demonstrating an explosive possibility — that glamor personalities may offer themselves as candidates in whatever states of the Union seem to offer the juiciest possibilities, regardless of whether the candidates currently are living in Hollywood, Calif., or Last Chance, Nev.

Top Of Old Baldy

On rare occasions when I've nothing better to think about, I think about men's hats. I must wear one when the temperature drops.

Yet, when fall and winter come, most of the men who went hatless all summer will still be hatless. This is the problem about men's hats — hatlessness.

It's also the problem about women's hats — too much hatlessness. Nearly every woman owns one hat for that one situation that might come up sometime. But many women never wear their one hat. They, too, go bareheaded.

They protect their hair-do with a scarf. In many instances, they couldn't put on a hat over their hair-do if they owned a thousand hats. Hats are incompatible with their elaborate coiffures.

But that's not why men aren't wearing hats. They have no problem about coiffures — not even the long-lock boys who go in for oo-la-la.

THERE'S ANOTHER reason for male hatlessness. It's the fact boys grow up hatless and stay that way when they become men. As anyone who ever raised boys can testify, persuading them to wear a hat is the equivalent of persuading them to take piano lessons.

They think they look silly. They are afraid they will look as silly as some of the men they see wearing hats. And who are most of the men they see wearing hats?

They are silly bald men who wear hats for protection against rain, snow, flying objects, identified and unidentified, soot, dust and the direct rays of the sun.

Except for men who wear hats in order to look the part they are playing, like business tycoons, silly bald men now are the hat industry's best customers. What does this spell out for the hat industry?

Simply that it must identify hats with health, instead of attractiveness. Hats must be sold to men on the same basis as football helmets, skull protectors for baseball players and safety headgear used by workers in hazardous places.

By Truman Twill

HATS MUST BE hooked up with protection from sinus trouble, avoidance of falling hair and cracked skulls. Impres-sionable males must be convinced that hats are good for them.

An incentive must be provided to fill the void created when schoolboys quit wearing hats and grew up to be hatless men whose sons didn't wear hats, either.

The pitch must be that a hatless man tells the world he is a no-good delinquent who has given up on himself and doesn't care.

If the hat industry and its retail outlets wonder why this information is being given away, it's because another summer is ending and soon it will be time for Old Baldy to cover up.

It makes a man feel as conspicuous to wear a hat as if he had forgotten his trousers. Comfort would love to have company. Come on, guys, buy hats!

Something Seems Out Of Gear

Democrats Have Their Eyes On Britain

By Victor Riesel

ATLANTIC CITY — In a hotel suite high above the bagpipe bands and button-mongers a small group of Democratic party braintrusts spent many hours early in the convention pondering something called "Smethwick."

Victor Riesel — pronounced "Smettick" — could hold the key to the presidential election.

Smethwick is an industrial suburb of Birmingham — England! It has a colored problem and a white backlash. Soon its residents will be voting in the British national elections which must be held before Oct. 15, some three weeks before our own payoff poll. Running for re-election in Smethwick is British Labour party's Dean Rusk.

If Labour wins, Mr. Walker will be foreign secretary for the party, which is a reasonable facsimile of the Rooseveltian "New Deal" now being recreated by President Lyndon Johnson.

What worries the Labour party — and intrigues the Democratic party observers here — is evidence that Mr. Walker is losing the fight for his seat in Parliament.

THE POSSIBLE political parallelism is not lost on Mr. Johnson's strategists. Smethwick is a factory and small shop city much like Gary or Hammond, Indiana.

It has, with British modifications, all the melting pot ingredients of big American industrial centers, though it has but 70,000 people. Six thousand of these are East Indians, Pakistanis, Jamaicans and West Indians.

This is proportionately the largest "colored" population of any community in the British Isles. Furthermore, it is being closely watched by the working people of nearby Birmingham.

The resentment in the general area has been building up for some time. The migrants from India and Pakistan, as well as from the West Indian islands, have been moving in steadily for five years. Some years ago a Pakistani, Sardar Mohammed, got a new apartment in a slum clearance project. Sixty-four of his white neighbors called a rent strike. He moved out.

When I was in Smethwick two weeks ago, I ran into other "parallels." Barbers refuse to cut the hair of colored people. Many bars and restaurants have a "whites only" policy. There have been unreported incidents of fights as these colored people change entire neighborhoods.

AN ABANDONED Methodist church has become a Sikh temple. There are Indian movies. I was taken to markets which sell only "native" foods.

There are revolts against the colored immigrants even within the ranks of the Labour party. One district leader has split away and runs a "whites only" youth group. There is even a "Labour Club" which has set itself outside the regular party organization and refuses to accept colored members.

There also is grumbling in the official parliamentary district organization and threats to either split away or sit this one out.

Naturally colored groups are swinging into political activity. But they are pro-Labour, though the resentment is strongest among the working rank and file white people. Something akin to our NAACP — the British Indian Workers Association — has sprung up and is campaigning strenuously against the Conservatives.

THIS DOESN'T worry the Conservative party. It is winning strong support in Smethwick and probably in other cities because it sponsored the immigration act which shut England to most colored workers of the British commonwealth countries.

The conservatives now feel they can take this once safe Labour party constituency. If the Conservatives win, they will have defeated an opposition leader of a political stature comparable to that of Hubert Humphrey or Robert Kennedy. This Labour party leader, Patrick Gordon Walker, now holds the Smethwick area by a slim 3,500 votes. So the parallelism grows stronger. The Kennedy-Johnson ticket carried many states by a few thousand votes.

All this the Democratic party strategists analyzed carefully after going over public and secret polls taken on the race issue in the United States all the way from California to New York.

SUCH AREAS as Lake County, Indiana, as well as other sections of the vast steel belt and mill towns throughout the United States, show white backlash sentiment in the low and moderate income groups.

So Democratic observers are keeping their eyes on Smethwick to see what happens in a national election which will narrow the choice for national leadership down to two men. The English will be making that choice sufficiently in advance for American political leaders to note the results and revamp their strategy in the final laps of our own big race.

Political Chicanery

By David Lawrence

Why Do The People Put Up With It?

ATLANTIC CITY — The American people really don't know what's going on here or how it can affect their destiny—their lives, their property, their freedoms in the communities where they live, their opportunities to conserve the value of their hard-earned money. The David Lawrence people do not know what is back of the political chicanery and the boastful phrases and the artificial glamor that surround a national convention, whether it is a Democratic or a Republican affair.

STILL the people are asked to choose one or the other of the men nominated by the two unrepresentative gatherings.

The Democratic convention this week unfortunately presents the image of an organized show, lacking in dignity, lacking in respect for the delegates and lacking in regard for the electorate itself.

For the objective seems to be to find the best way to fool the people. This involves palpable showmanship and repeated assurances to the voters that all their worries are over, that there is to be an unending prosperity and that their sons will not have to be drawn into any war.

THE EXUBERANT phrases of pride in the administration's activities, reflected in the speeches, are matched only by the vehement denunciations of opponents.

These utterances, of course, are characteristic pieces of demagoguery evident in all political conventions. One wonders how long the American people are going to stand for such manifest nonsense.

Even outdoors around the convention hall there are "rallies" designed primarily to attract television cameras and the press so they can report, for Adam Clayton Powell, Negro clergyman who is the Democrat representing the Harlem district in Congress and chairman of the all-important Committee on Education and Labor of the House of Representatives.

HE TOLD a cheering crowd that Sen. Eastland and Stennis of Mississippi, Democrats, are "the No. 1 hoodlums of the nation."

But there were no resolutions adopted by the convention denouncing this as "extremism." Nor was there any denunciation by name of those organizations which incited the violence and "hooliganism" in Harlem recently and in other cities of the country.

This "extremism," of course, was not confined to spoken epithets or innuendoes but extended to acts of violence that cost several lives and caused injury to many innocent persons as well as millions of dollars of damage to private property.

INSIDE the convention hall itself, the scene is unlike that of any other convention. Hundreds of the delegates are seated behind three huge stands, each rising 20 to 30 feet to a wide wooden platform on which newsreel, TV and other camera-men are stationed.

These delegates cannot see the speaker or others on the rostrum or the state delegations seated in front of the obstructive carpentry.

In this kind of conclave perhaps it isn't necessary to worry at all about whether the delegates themselves can see anything.

THE WHOLE GAME is to reach the television audiences across the country and to give them the illusory idea that this is a well-ordered meeting of highly intellectual persons engaged in the solemn task of nominating a president and vice president of the United States.

If this is the contrived method whereby presidents are always nominated, it hardly can impress a visitor from abroad that the system is much different from the way the Communist party is run in Moscow.

For the delegates at the party conventions in this country also are told what to do by a small clique of leaders.

NOT ONLY has the party platform here been written in advance, but it is jammed through by a single convention roll call. There is no dissent.

Even the selection of a vice presidential nominee is carried out very much as Mr. Khrushchev would pick his second in command.

One wonders how long the American people will continue to be the victims of such unrepresentative processes.

Strangely enough, only millionaires often seem to be regarded as fitting candidates for the highest office in the land, and the competition this time appears to be centered on which candidate has accumulated the most money.

The "affluent society" in the Atlantic City convention, moreover, is conspicuous.

ONE WONDERs also what has become of the rights of the "common people"—those who earn their own living and want others to do likewise so the taxpayers' money will not be wantonly appropriated for the selfless or for the benefit of the politically shrewd.

The adroit politician inevitably scoffs at intellectual honesty. He concerns himself primarily with finding ways to channel public funds to the areas where the votes aren't exactly bought but where members of Congress claim nevertheless they can obtain for a state or city more public funds than the candidate of the other party can possibly get for his constituency.

This is the essence of American politics today.

Incidentally, the representatives of the Russian Communist press are here to observe what's going on.

Humphrey, A Real Pro

By James Marlow

ATLANTIC CITY — Sen. Humphrey, more than any other Democrat in sight, can match President Johnson in ceaseless energy and working with Congress.

It was hardly a coincidence that Johnson, who Wednesday night told the Democratic convention he wanted the Minnesota senator for his vice presidential running mate, let this be known earlier in the week.

If elected, he wants to make more use of his vice president than any president ever did.

Humphrey is a real pro in government. Even the Republican leader of the Senate, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, called him "the most professional of professionals."

Humphrey has extremely broad support among Democrats across the country, although not so much in the South which remembers he was the one who led the 1964 Civil Rights bill to passage in Congress.

Last July the Associated Press conducted a nationwide poll among delegates to this convention on their vice presidential preference. Humphrey topped the list.

By waiting until the last minute to reveal his choice of a partner in this year's campaign, Johnson was able to sound out opinion and see what groups wanted him to pick the man to ride with him.

Organized labor backs Humphrey. Negroes trust him. He is a shining figure to liberals. Dirksen called him the "modern liberal," a phrase which may look simple but isn't.

Where some congressional liberals appear inflexible in demands and positions, Humphrey without sacrificing principles is willing to compromise on issues to get at least part of what he urges.

He wasn't always that way. When he first came to the Senate in 1949 he was the arch-type of the inflexible liberal, both brash and talkative. He is still talkative. But otherwise there is a difference, as he explained:

"If I believe in something, I will fight for it with all I have. But I do not demand all or nothing. Professional liberals want the fiery debate. They glory in defeat, a sort of political masochism."

"The hardest job for a politician today is to have the courage to be moderate. It is easy to take an extreme position."

The Careful Planner

Democrats Did Precisely What Johnson Ordered

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—To Lyndon B. Johnson even minor political details are to be studied, to be worried about, and, if anything goes wrong, to blow one's stack over.

Never has this been better illustrated than at the Democratic National Convention.

Wednesday night the whooping delegates nominated Johnson by acclamation.

They waited patiently for the word and when it came, they shouted Hubert H. Humphrey in as their choice for vice president.

They avoided floor fights and adopted a platform with scarcely a dissenting voice, something that hasn't been done in at least a generation.

In short, they did precisely what the political doctor in the White House ordered.

In talking with those who have been deeply involved in this convention, one gets this picture: what happened — or, more importantly, what didn't happen — isn't so much the result of Johnson's busy telephoner as it is of Johnson the careful planner.

A man close to the President used this as an illustration:

When vice presidential boomlets for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy began, Johnson quickly cut him, and a few others, from the running — and thus removed the one man — and the one family — who might have stolen the show from him here.

Even the tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy was prudently put off until tonight: No use stirring up a lot of emotion until all decisions have been made.

Or take the hottest issue this convention had to face: Which delegation from Mississippi should be seated?

A week ago Saturday Humphrey was in California. While there he talked with such Democratic leaders as Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Sen. Pierre Salinger, Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh and State Controller Alan Cranston about the potentially explosive Mississippi situation.

When he returned to the White House, he reportedly told Johnson: "If this gets to a vote on the floor, we're done. It's too emotional."

The upshot: Humphrey, who helped to split the party in 1948 by leading a civil rights fight, now was to work to soothe everything over.

Everything was thought of. Atty. Gen. Walter Mondale of Minnesota, one of Humphrey's most loyal followers, just happened to be named head of the subcommittee to handle this problem.

Johnson runs a peculiar shop. He apparently doesn't like titles, and he wants men who are eager to work, and to work in complete anonymity. So there is no clearcut division of duties, and Johnson's agents may fan out in all directions, with several of them working on the same problem from different angles.

The Atlantic City White House took form here early, and by the first of this week its switchboard was so jammed you repeatedly got busy signals when you tried to dial it.

Walter Jenkins, a longtime friend and administrative assistant, was chief of staff of the operations.

Often you would hear this phrase: "He talked with the White House about that." This could mean he talked with Johnson; more probably it meant he talked with an assistant.

Perhaps the most significant thing in all this is how complete the planning was.

Clifton Carter, who looks after endless political details for Johnson, and Richard Maquire, Democratic treasurer, had a series of workshops going this week which in effect laid the groundwork for the fall campaigns.

All 50 states had representatives present who were told how to take advantage of research material worked up by the national committee, how to organize Young Citizens for LBJ, how to provide publicity, how to pep up women's activities, how to encourage citizen groups and how to turn out zippy campaign material.

Carter also has the responsibility of making sure everything runs smoothly in Convention Hall. An elaborate phone system keeps him within instant touch of each delegation.

He was explaining this as he was returning from lunch. Suddenly his coat pocket started to buzz. Carter took out a small radio receiver and switched it off.

"This means I have a call," he said, "I've got to get to a phone."

As you can see, not many bets were overlooked in Atlantic City.

Sons, Daughters Of Disabled Veterans Due Schooling Aid

Educational assistance from the Veterans Administration is now available for sons and daughters of living veterans who have disabilities which are considered to be total and permanent in nature, reports Atty. Michael Blischak, service officer of the Jefferson County American Legion Council.

On July 7, the War Orphans Educational Assistance Act was amended to provide these benefits, he said.

The veteran's disability must have resulted from service-connected causes. Also included in this program are the children of a deceased veteran who at the time of his death was permanently and totally disabled from service-connected causes.

Generally, a young person must be between 18 and 23 years to attend school under the program. In certain instances it is possible to begin school before 18 and to continue after 23. Marriage is not a bar to this benefit, Blischak said.

A young person eligible for schooling may attend school after military service. He may pursue training within five years from separation but not beyond his 31st birthday.

Educational assistance benefits are for students enrolling in colleges, universities and technical schools. Below college-level courses may be taken only in schools that offer specialized vocational training that will fit a student for a vocational goal.

The VA, Blischak said, will pay $110 for every month spent in school if training full time. Rates for part-time study are lower. The eligible person may receive up to 36 months of education.

Applications may be obtained by Jefferson County residents at the County Veterans Service Office, War Memorial Building, 423 North St., Steubenville.

Hancock Man 1 Of 2 Inmates Recaptured

MARTINSBURG (AP)—A deputy sheriff and a jail trusty teamed up Wednesday evening to recapture two prisoners who walked away from a fruit-picking detail near Paw Paw.

Back in Custody were Kenneth Richard Smith, 19, of Berkeley County, and Lester Earl McAdams, 26, of Hancock County. Both had been sentenced to terms of 1 to 10 years in Medium Security Prison at Huttonsville.

Making the capture behind Musselman High School near here were Deputy Sheriff Paul LeDane and the trusty.

Store Firm Plans Sportswear Unit

Don Lynn, operator of Zacks, announced today he will open a second store featuring women's casual sportswear Sept. 3 in the Little Building.

Both seasonal and casual sportswear will be featured in the shop to be managed by Mrs. Grace Winters, Lynn said.

The primary reason for opening the shop, Lynn said, is to provide additional space in the main store at 503 Market St. for other women's clothing. However, he pointed out the store also adds to the growth of the downtown area, particularly the Diamond, as a shopping center.

The village-type store will feature a rustic decor including rocking chairs and a pot-bellied stove, Lynn said. He has operated Zacks for 10 years.

Democrats To Honor Memory Of 3 Tonight

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The Democratic party honors the memory tonight of three leaders who died since its last national convention: Sam Rayburn, Eleanor Roosevelt, and John F. Kennedy.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, brother of the late president, will introduce a film that depicts the achievements of Kennedy from his inaugural until his assassination last Nov. 22.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson will pay tribute to Mrs. Roosevelt, the widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. She died on Nov. 7, 1962.

Beaver Local To Restore Bus Service

The Beaver Local Board of Education, at a special meeting Wednesday night, decided to restore school bus transportation previously curtailed because of a $6,000 cut in the transportation fund of the budget.

The move was made on the condition that Mayor Glenn Rhodes of Rogers continue to head a fund drive to raise a total of $1,170 to help finance full bus service in the four school districts until the Nov. 3 election.

The board has submitted a new levy of 5.4 mills to meet current expenses and renewal of a 1.6-mill levy for five years.

About 110 youngsters outside of the Rogers village limits and 65-75 inside would be forced to walk to school, under the curtailed service, over the heavily-traveled Routes 154 and 7.

About 30 parents and board members attended the meeting, which lasted about an hour and 20 minutes, another in a series that has been held since the board announced the curtailment, forcing children to walk to school if residing a mile or less from the buildings — in Rogers, Elkton, West Point and Calcutta.

Each will be asked to raise about $300 for resumption of service until the levy's fate is decided. Further service, of course, will depend on the outcome of the vote, the board has said.

The next regular meeting of the board will be Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the Beaver Local Public School, Beaver Local schools resume classes Sept. 9.

Ohio Industrial Expansion Hit Record In July

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Industrial expansion in Ohio hit a record high in July, the state Department of Development says.

Deputy Development Director F. O. Neuschwander, in a report issued Wednesday, said new firms and plant expansions in July alone would provide 3,400 new jobs for Ohio workers. The report said the new firms and expansions add more than $283 million in capital investment to the state's industrial establishment.

The department report, which went to Gov. James A. Rhodes, also said Ohio was first in the nation in increased capital investment for the 10-year period from 1952-1962. The department said the latter information was based on U.S. government figures.

"The expansions announced here during July show that we are not only continuing to grow but our growth is at a faster rate," Neuschwander said.

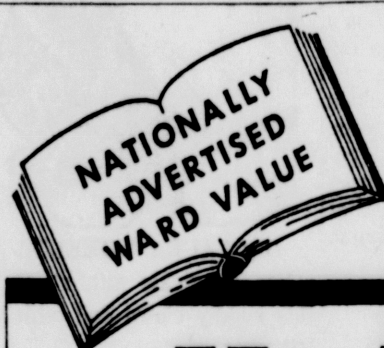

The report said about every section of Ohio shared in the industrial growth. Thirty-five counties added new jobs from the new and expanded firms.

The department said Butler County led the list with more than 1,000 new jobs, primarily the result of the new Armo facility there.

The first post office was established in America in 1639 at Boston.

Bin Sale Seen
As Result Of Grain Control

LISBON — Clifford Shaw, officer manager of the Columbiana County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, said persons interested in buying bins for grain storage may contact the ASC committee's headquarters here.

He reported the sale of train bins at Bin Site 106 in Sandusky County, comprised 25 bins with an overall capacity of 68,660 bushels. These bins were sold at public auction, all to farmers residing in Sandusky and surrounding counties.

The nationwide sale of bins and the vacating of bin sites considered in excess of needs is the result of the continued success of the voluntary feed grain programs, he said.

In Ohio, farmers have diverted 3,489,410 acres from the production of feed grain in the past four years. If corn had been produced on these acres at the state average yield per acre, 267,834,300 bushels more corn would have been added to the national surplus from the county, he said.

With the current limited demand for grain uses, the excess corn produced would have exerted a pronounced downward pressure on feed grain prices. Indirectly, this would have lowered producer prices for beef, dairy, hogs and poultry products, he pointed out.

"The program has held the surplus of feed grain to a manageable level, providing a reduction in storage costs to the taxpayers. Farm and local community incomes have been increased through the diverted acres and price support payments made to participating producers.

"The acres actually diverted have been devoted to conserving uses, thereby increasing the fertility and productivity of the farms involved. Such a conservation program has helped build the soil resources of the rural area—the real wealth of the community and the property base for taxation for our rural schools and many other local community services," he commented.

the first time the answer to the big question which had been in every delegate's mind for days.

Humphrey, accompanied by his family, marched up to the podium and Johnson, stepping aside, let his running mate have his time in the spotlight.

After the convention had adjourned for the night Johnson flew back to Washington, obviously cherishing the belief that he had the strongest possible ticket and a nearly unified party behind him.

Politically the choice of Humphrey offered the party liberals a glittering prize to offset all of the efforts the President had made to keep Southern conservatives in camp and to prevent a walkout by Southern dissidents.

Johnson's name was formally placed in nomination by Govs. Connally and Edmund G. Brown of California.

Leghorns Longhairs At Feathercrest Farm

MOUNT ALBERT, Ont. (AP)—The leghorns are longhairs at Feathercrest Farm.

When the big automated egg farm 25 miles north of Toronto opened two years ago, the owners provided their 60,000 laying hens with the best of everything, including piped-in music.

But the music was largely rock 'n' roll and the hens just didn't dig it, says Len Rosenberg, one of the owners.

"Our quality dropped and so did egg production. We didn't fight. We switched to FM."

The classics and other soothing music apparently appealed to the hens because 70 per cent of them now leave an egg a day in appreciation.

But that's not all the hens have to be thankful for. The five buildings in which they are kept — two birds to a cage — are air-conditioned, specially lighted and antiseptic.

Each hen has its own eight inches of feed and water trough.

Said he plans campaign trips for one, two or three days a week where possible but for the most part will "stay right here in this house and do my job."

Announced he plans to send to Congress next January another budget below $100 billion, and said he issued orders that advance estimates be made on that basis.

The physical examination which Johnson announced was the first he had reported since taking office last November. He underwent it on Monday, after a 9-lap tour of the White House driveway which had set his record up to that time.

Two of the participating doctors had treated Johnson after his 1955 heart attack. They are Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. J. C. Cain of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn.

The others are Dr. George G. Burkley, a Navy rear admiral who is official White House physician, and Dr. James M. Young, an Army doctor on the White House staff.

They said Johnson has "no symptoms," that his blood pressure is normal, and that all other aspects of the examination were normal.

Red Chinese might be profitable," he said.

But, He added: "I don't think we can possibly come out of any negotiations now with an honorable type of peace which would be honorable to Viet Nam and honorable to those men of ours who fought and died over there."

The enemy should be the one, actually, that should institute negotiations, Goldwater said, "unless through the United Nations you can find interest in both sides."

Through press secretary Paul Wagner he relayed a clarification of his comments on negotiating with the Communist Chinese.

Wagner said Goldwater, on a ship-to-shore phone, declared that was not his suggestion, but one advanced by military men and civilian experts.

These advisors, Wagner quoted Goldwater as saying, recommended that when the South Vietnamese military situation is improved, the United States send word to Red China demanding that nation stop sending supplies that end up in the hands of Communist guerrillas.

If the Chinese do not halt shipments, Wagner said Goldwater told him, the United States could stage a show of strength to underline its intentions.

Goldwater, in red pants and a white polo shirt, said he plans to spend his vacation days fishing, working a portable ham radio set, and preparing the speech with which he will formally launch his campaign at Prescott, Ariz., on Sept. 3.

The senator and his wife plan to stay on the yacht Sundance until Aug. 31.

Plugs Cleveland For '68 Convention

Ohio Delegation Salutes Johnson And Humphrey

ATLANTIC CITY (AP)—Plaid-waving Ohio delegates added their salute to President Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert Humphrey, in tumultuous demonstrations in the Democratic National Convention Wednesday night.

They also used the occasion to plug Cleveland for the party's 1968 convention. Signs reading "Cleveland in 1968" were mingled among bobbing Johnson and Humphrey banners.

Although some Ohio delegates had said earlier they thought Sen. Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota would be Johnson's choice, Humphrey's selection drew Ohio approval.

State chairman William L. Coleman, who had said all along that Humphrey would be it, praised the vice presidential nominee as "exceptionally qualified."

Today's schedule included a campaign rally for Sen. Stephen Young at the Seaside Hotel. Some of Young's Senate colleagues and several governors were among those invited.

One of Ohio's prominent delegates, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze, told a senior citizens gathering Wednesday to "remember in November" that Republicans have blocked the Democratic medicare bill in Congress.

Predicting the bill's eventual passage, Celebrezze said to the elderly group: "All you are asking of your government and your Congress is dignity in your old age."

Earlier Wednesday, Coleman predicted that Ohio Democrats will face a tough campaign but will carry the state for President Johnson in the November election.

He conceded that the "white backlash" is a problem in Ohio, particularly in the Cleveland area. But he said, "The real issue is one of war and peace rather than backward and forward lash."

"The people must be told the facts of the campaign and we will carry Ohio by a safe margin," he said.

Herschel Kriger, a delegate from Canton, remained in critical condition today after suffering a heart attack on the floor of the convention Tuesday night.

Kriger, about 50, is a lawyer and labor leader in the Ohio AFL-CIO.

One humorous incident Wednesday was the discovery of a Republican "spy" among the Ohio delegation.

A reporter for an Ohio newspaper said that, while delegates were milling around in the lobby of the Seaside Hotel, he spotted John Skipton, public relations manager for Marathon Oil Co. of Findlay, Ohio, standing off to the side.

Skipton was a delegate to the Republican National Convention last month.

Skipton, who was Ohio finance director when C. William O'Neill was governor, quickly explained he was in Atlantic City "on business."

"I was in Washington and just couldn't resist coming up here to see what was going on," Skipton said jokingly.

"Fill me in," he added as a newsman accused him of spying on the Democrats.

The Beatles Set For Cincinnati Concert Tonight

CINCINNATI (AP) — Four mop-topped lads from Liverpool headed into Cincinnati today and, to use a teen-age phrase, this metropolitan area faced a frantic and "fantabulous" time.

"They're 'gear,' man,"—"the mostest"—sighed 14-year-old Karol Burgess, squealing in delight at the hardly-expected acquisition of two tickets to tonight's show by the Beatles before a capacity 13,000 in Cincinnati Gardens.

Kathy had proved pretty

"gear" herself by appealing, in a newspaper want-ad, for the prized pasteboards. She got them from Kathy Reid, 13, who had decided, after reading of near-riots at the scene of Beatles concerts, that discretion was the better part of valor and so, to remain at home.

Some 100 policemen were ordered to duty around Cincinnati Gardens, some to report hours before the 8 p.m. opening; approximately 40 others were assigned to their uptown hotel and another 100 private guards were employed by a group of local disc jockeys who are sponsoring the show.

Moore Asks U.S. Drop Plans On Sale Of Plants

WHEELING (AP) — Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., R-W. Va., has asked the U.S. Department of Justice to drop its plans to force sale of Continental Can Company's two Hazel - Atlas glass plants in West Virginia.

The plants at Wheeling and Clarksburg employ 2,025 persons.

In a letter to the department Wednesday, he said sale of the plants is "ridiculous" and would "seriously jeopardize" workers' jobs.

Moore asked to meet with labor and management representatives and officials of the department's Anti-trust Division to emphasize "the seriousness of this attempt" to force the sale.

He said the Justice Department is demanding sale of the Wheeling and Clarksburg facilities before it will approve purchase of other Continental glass plants by the Brockway Glass Co.

Moore said sale of the two West Virginia plants has never been mentioned during eight years of litigation between Continental Can and the Justice Department.

"At this late hour to conclude they also should be sold is ridiculous," he said.

NEW BORON GASOLINE

A NEW GASOLINE TO GIVE BETTER ENGINE PERFORMANCE AND BETTER MILEAGE BY KEEPING ENGINES CLEANER!

NEW BORON CLEAN INTAKE VALVE
(This is the valve you want in your car)

DEPOSITS ON INTAKE VALVE
(Why let dirty engine parts like these rob you of power and mileage?)

COMPARE THIS BIG DIFFERENCE!

MODERN ENGINES CREATE THE NEED FOR A CLEANER ENGINE GASOLINE! The reports all showed it! From car manufacturers themselves! From papers delivered before automotive technical societies! From Sohio's own field investigations! Value deposits and acid corrosion are problems in modern engines! Poor high-speed performance and rough idling can be signs of dirty valves. The common and annoying problem of valve-lifter clatter can be a sign of acid corrosion. To solve these dirty engine problems, Sohio Science has developed a different, new gasoline! It is New Boron Gasoline—The Cleaner Engine Gasoline for Better Engine Performance and Better Mileage!

New Boron is made in a different way! It contains an exclusive Valve Cleaner that coats valve surfaces to keep deposits from forming. Clean valves stay cleaner. Deposits on dirty valves are reduced. Just look at the two valves above and see for yourself the big difference in valve cleanliness New Boron makes!

New Boron also contains a unique anti-knock compound that greatly reduces acid corrosion. This special anti-knock compound completely eliminates the formation of hydrochloric acid. Vital parts such as valve lifters and bearings stay much cleaner than before!

New Boron now keeps carburetors clean two big ways: 1) With a highly effective carburetor detergent. 2) With a Super Filter right in the pump hose that's twice as effective as the fuel filter in your own car.

For better engine performance and mileage, always use New Boron! It's the new gasoline from Sohio Science that makes big new differences in engine cleanliness! THE STANDARD OIL CO.

New Boron—the cleaner engine gasoline—is now at all Sohio stations

The Time For Child To Learn ABC's

Some years ago you heard teachers and other educators warning parents not to teach their young children the letters of the alphabet before they entered the first grade. Many parents of first graders entered the first grade. Many parents of first graders entered the first grade.

When she sees him confusing letters like b and d, which look somewhat alike, she is pretty sure to have him practice on these two together. Instead, she should keep such letters far apart, and have him practice on only one of them at a time.

Indeed, she hardly should have him practice on more than one letter at any one sitting, having him look for and find it on one or more pages of a book or newspaper.

If your child in the second or third grades has trouble in reading or spelling, check to find out if he can identify all of the 26 letters. How in the world is he going to learn to spell if he can't name every letter of the alphabet when he sees it?

My bulletins, "Helping Child At Home In Early Steps of Reading" and "Home Helps in Reading and Spelling," may be obtained by sending a U.S. stamped, self-addressed envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Wellsville Kiwanians Hear WSTV Director George Wilson, promotion director of WSTV-TV in Steubenville, addressed the Wellsville Kiwanis Club at its Tuesday noon luncheon meeting in Piatt's Tea Room.

Wilson related details of the fall programming schedule and gave a summary of the various programs to be seen over Channel 9 and time changes.

Wilson also screened a film, "Walter Cronkite Anchor Man." The film, published by CBS Television, showed how Cronkite makes up his daily news program. No business was held.

Next meeting will be Tuesday noon at Piatt's.

CONSEQUENTLY, the old alphabet blocks your grandparents played with are coming back. Enterprising producers of good ones should find a profitable business here. The youngster at play easily could grow familiar with the letters of the alphabet, when he is 3, 4, or 5, without any formal lessons. I've received an increasing number of letters in recent months in which the mother says her child's teacher has asked her to help him, in the first or second grade, to learn his ABC's.

Some of these mothers need help in teaching the youngsters the letters of the alphabet. Apparently their most frequent error is in having the child practice on as many as eight or 10 of the 26 letters in one session, and the youngster gets all mixed up.

Crash Injures City Woman

An East Liverpool woman was reported in "fair" condition today at City Hospital while another was treated for minor injuries suffered in a two-way crash on Route 7 about half a mile north of the Route 30 and Route 7 intersection Wednesday afternoon about 2:30.

Sadie Najem, 58, suffered a fractured right rib and shoulder and hip injuries, and Alice Najem, 59, both of 316 W. 7th St., received a sprained left wrist when the car in which they were passengers, operated by Eli John Najem, 67, slammed into the rear of one driven by Clarence E. Taylor, 71, of Beallsville, the patrol said.

A large block of wood fell into the path of the southbound Taylor car from the rear of a northbound truck operated by Kenton A. Kisner, 45, of Columbiana.

When Taylor halted to avoid hitting the wood, Najem's car crashed into the rear of Taylor's, causing moderate damage to both autos.

Kisner was cited by the patrol for failure to secure his load properly and Najem for failure to stop within the assured clear distance.

Two others cited in a two-car wreck on Route 7, a mile south of Route 14.

John Richard Woerner, 32, of Homeworth Ave., East Liverpool, was accused of improper passing, and Loyal Edgar Hoffman, 27, of North Lima, failure to give a proper signal.

The patrol said Hoffman was attempting to make a left turn into a private driveway when hit by Woerner's car as the latter attempted to pass on the left. No injuries were reported.

2 Motorists Receive Fines

East Liverpool and Salineville area men drew fines totaling $35 today in Municipal Court for traffic violations.

Donald W. Barnes of McDonald St., Glenmoor, was convicted by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff and fined $10 and costs on a charge of passing on the right on Pennsylvania Ave. near Boyce St. He pleaded innocent.

Barnes was cited at 3 p. m. Tuesday after passing a cruiser operated by Patrolman Sam Hayes. The officer testified a large sign has been erected to bar passing on the right prior to the start of two lanes of west-bound traffic — one for traffic en route downtown and the other for Park Way traffic. The sign has been up for about a year, the officer said.

Barnes told Judge Chertoff that he and his wife inspected the area Wednesday night and said the sign is obscured by a tree. He told the court he "just didn't see the sign."

Chester Proffit of Salineville R. D. 1 drew a fine of $25 and costs for failing to stop within the assured clear distance as the aftermath of a three-way crash Aug. 20 at Silver Switch on Route 7 in which Proffit's wife and two children and two youths were hurt slightly.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruze —

Dear Gals: Here is something for those of you who have blenders . . . lucky gals.

I finally learned to use my blender for grated carrot salad, and here's how:

Fill the blender one-third full of water and turn the machine on LOW.

While the water is churning, take your knife and cut the carrots into chunks (about one-half inch) and drop them into the blender (one chunk at a time, very quickly). Soon as you finish the second carrot, turn the blender OFF. We don't want pulverized baby food.

Now, pick up your other three or four carrots (blender is OFF) and cut more small chunks on TOP of the finely grated carrots. I usually add a few radishes at this time.

Now turn the blender on fast and turn it off quickly. On again and off again, etc., until the carrots are as fine as you want.

Pour the chopped food through your strainer so the water can drain. Or you can use a piece of nylon net for this and wring it out beautifully.

ONE MAY also add a bit of cabbage to the carrots.

Pure cabbage slaw can be made the same way. If you like onion in the slaw, put it in at the same time. It's so pulverized that it will be distributed beautifully.

Aren't inexpensive salads wonderful? 'Specially when they can be made up hours ahead of time, or the day before.

I use a dressing made of one-half cup of mayonnaise (not salad dressing) one-fourth cup of sugar, and one-fourth cup of vinegar. Mix it well and pour over any of the above. Wonderful.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Why do Heaven, Help, Hello, Hun, Happy, Hilarious, Hit, Honey, and Hello-ease all start with H? I'm H—all for 'em. Do you pronounce the "H" in your name? Tell me y-ah, please.

MILLIE.

Ye-ah, Hello-ease.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When taking a freshly-baked cake out of the pan and it sticks to the bottom—just run a knife around the sides of the pan, then set it on a lighted stove burner for a few seconds. This will warm the bottom of the pan and your cake will come out smooth and untorn.

L.G.

It will do it. The heat melts the shortening slightly. But be sure your burner is on LOW and you leave the pan on for only a few seconds.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: What about aluminum - trimmed windows and doors? Mine look terrible.

HELEN G.

I keep my aluminum-trimmed doors, windows, and screens bright and shiny by dipping a soap-filled pad in straight kerosene and scouring away.

All I need do after that is to rub the doors or screens with a soft cloth. I do not wash off the kerosene. It works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you save recipes, household hints, etc., and either paste or tape them in a file . . . apply clear nail polish over the entire item after you are finished, as this keeps the paper from turning yellow.

MS. HOMEMAKE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a way to eliminate broken zippers.

Sometimes zippers break at the top where there is the most strain. So I sew a hook and eye on the material between the waistband and the zipper and it eliminates the strain . . . no more broken zippers.

Area Jaycees Air Plans On State Session

The President's Council of District 20 of the Junior Chamber of Commerce composed of Jefferson and Columbiana Counties made plans for a state session at a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Robert Lewis, district vice president, on Shady-lane Dr.

Attending were Jaycee officials from East Liverpool, Salem, Lisbon and Steubenville. James Williams, Region 8 director, was present.

Plans were discussed for District 20 to participate as a unit at the All-State meeting in the Deshler - Cole Hotel in Columbus Sept. 26-27. Dale Kidd, local president, will head the East Liverpool delegation.

Plans also were aired for a district meeting hosted by East Liverpool on Oct. 21, together with interclub visits within the district during the football season.

Other business included the discussion of methods for raising money for the Olympic Fund, plus membership problems and past drives.

Robert Conroy, district chairman, gave a report on records and recognitions. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Janet Lewis.

One inch of rainfall over one acre of land represents 113 tons of water.

Driver's Fine Is Suspended

A Substation motorist was given a suspended $25 fine Wednesday in Municipal Court on a reckless driving charge filed by a Henry Ave. woman.

Tom Weyand was ordered to pay costs by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on the affidavit filed by Peggy Williams of Henry Ave., following a hearing after the defendant, represented by Atty. William S. Foulks, entered an innocent plea.

Mrs. Williams' affidavit alleged that on Aug. 18 Weyand drove down a steep grade at a high rate of speed "and suddenly hit his brakes, throwing dirt, stones and debris into the yard of the adjacent owner where children were playing."

Lewis Williams testified he was sitting on the back porch of his home, which is adjacent to the property of Weyand's parents, and a stone hurled by the skidding car narrowly missed his oldest son.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark represented the city.

Robert A. Thomas of Clinton R. D. 1 was fined $15 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding 60 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone. He was cited Friday afternoon on W. 8th St.

The oldest European settlement in the New World is Santo Domingo, on the island of Haiti, which was founded in 1496 by Columbus.

Cleveland Boy Age 7 Already Knows Tragedy

CLEVELAND (AP) — David Peck is only 7-years-old but he already knows about tragedy. His small world has been shattered twice in the last eight months.

Last January David's older brother, Darryl, 8, a constant companion and closest friend, died of leukemia. Then last Saturday Peppy, David's 3-month-old puppy, was struck and killed by a car—or cars.

"Something should be done to get these drivers to slow down," the youngster told his mother. "I'm going to write a letter to The Plain Dealer."

This is the letter David printed neatly on lined paper to the morning newspaper.

"Dear Editor:

"My name is David Peck.

"My puppy's name was Peppy.

"He was killed by two cars Saturday afternoon. My dog was the smartest dog on the street.

"One of the cars was blue. One of the cars was a red Corvair. The cars were going too fast and could not stop.

"Please ask the drivers to slow down on the streets where there are puppies and children."

Signed: David Peck

The preservation of food by dehydration is not a modern process. It dates back to prehistoric man. In the United States itself the early settlers depended upon dehydrated buffalo meat for food.

Teen-Age Smoking

By Gail Kredenser

Children, taught early not to play with matches, all too often learn in elementary school how to put one to the end of a cigarette.

According to a new pamphlet, "Cigarettes and the Schools," published by the National Education Association, more teenagers are smoking cigarettes than ever before and are starting at an earlier age—in many cases during elementary school years.

It's estimated that from 10 to 15 per cent of all 13-year-olds smoke, and that for each successive age level there is a percentage increase up to age 18 where 50 per cent smoke regularly.

What can the schools—and parents—do to help youngsters stop smoking? Better still, what can they do to see children never get started?

Many schools have cracked down hard on student smoking. A recent report by the American Association of School Administrators and the research division of the NEA shows that of 260 school systems with student populations ranging from 12,000 to 100,000 and up, 199 prohibit smoking on school grounds.

There are some schools that do provide student smoking facilities but require students to take courses on the harmful effects of smoking.

THE SCHOOLS emphasize the bad effects of smoking on the would-be school athlete, quoting the American Medical Association which states that "acute impairment of pulmonary function in young smokers as compared to non-smokers has been demonstrated."

The schools also note that it's the non-smokers who seem to achieve better grades in school and who take part in more activities such as music, athletics, drama, special clubs, and student government.

Parents can work with schools to develop sound policies on smoking says the NEA pamphlet.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove spilled fingernail polish from rugs or clothing?

A.—Use amyl acetate (also called amyl acetate ether, banana oil, or pear oil), available in drugstores. Commercial polish removers may dissolve the synthetics commonly used today in such materials.

Q.—How can I remove chocolate stains from table linens?

A.—As promptly as possible, use a paste made of borax and water. Remember, however, that it's wise to wash the cloth out immediately, too—with cold water.

Q.—How can I remove some scratches from my silverware?

A.—By applying with a soft cloth a paste made of putty powder and olive oil. Rinse and polish.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my husband and I decided to go to a movie. I wore my nicest maternity dress and my new white patent leather shoes.

After about 15 minutes my feet began to ache, so I removed my shoes. When the movie was over I tried to get my shoes back on but it was impossible because my feet had swollen. (I'm in my eighth month.)

My husband suggested we wait till the place cleared out so I could walk out "unnoticed" in my stocking feet. On the way to the parking lot — me with my shoes in my hand — several people stopped to stare. One woman gasped, "Imagine being drunk in her condition. Isn't it disgraceful?"

This morning my husband called from the office and said everyone is talking about it. Should I phone a few people and explain? — HUMILIATED.

Dear Humiliated: Explain what? That you really drank? Why give the incident more publicity? Laugh it off and forget it.

Cozy Arrangements

Dear Ann: I'm the mother of three sons. The problem concerns the youngest boy who is a high school senior.

Butch has a girl friend, Sally. They do not have much money to spend so they sit around in the evening and watch TV a lot. I've told Butch that when my husband and I are out for the evening, if he wants to have Sally over he must invite another couple to the house. The boy accuses me of being mean and nasty-minded. He sulks and goes for days without speaking. Butch says when he visits Sally in her home her parents don't impose such ridiculously strict rules.

If you feel I'm wrong and should change my ideas, please say so. — FIRM BUT SAD MOM.

Dear Mom: No teen-age boy should be allowed to entertain a girl friend in his home when his parents are not present. What sense, pray tell, does another couple make? Tell Butch he can't have Sally over unless he asks you in advance. Then stay at home.

Free With Advice

Dear Ann: Pop always has been reckless with money. He has speculated in futures, invested in penny stocks and bought lots for $10 down and $10 a month. When things got tight he borrowed from loan companies and paid high interest rates. We never said anything because we figured it was his money.

Recently Pop became ill and had to quit work. His income has stopped. My husband and I are the only ones in the family who can help him financially. We have agreed to support him in a rest home if he will get rid of all his so-called investments and pay off as many of his debts as possible. Also, he must promise not to go for any more get-rich-quick schemes.

The rest of the family says we are unfair. They feel we ask him to change his way of life.

If we do as the family says we'll have to forego our vacations and dig into money set aside for our children's college education. HELP!! — THE GREAT DIVIDE.

Dear Divide: Since the rest of the family has nothing to contribute but advice, use your own judgment.

It would be foolish to spend your savings to take care of a father who is throwing his money away on pie-in-the-sky deals. Your plan makes sense.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wellsville Band Of 70 To Leave Friday For Fair

About 70 members of the Wellsville High School Band and several school personnel serving as chaperones will depart from the high school aboard three school buses Friday morning at 6:30 for the Ohio State Fair in Columbus. The band is scheduled to present a concert that afternoon at 3 at the fairgrounds.

The group will stay overnight at the Southern Hotel and then leave Columbus around 8 Saturday morning after breakfast. They will arrive back at the high school around 4 p. m. after stopping in Canton for lunch.

The band members and parents raised $510.27 to finance the trip. They needed $500. A breakdown of the various fund-raising projects shows $229.04 from car washes, $127.73 from paper drives, $67 from bakeless bake sales, $41.50 from dances and $45 from cash donations. The money left over will be placed in the band parents treasury.

Street Seal-Coating Waits More Material

Seal-coating of city streets blacktopped in 1962 will be resumed as soon as another tank car of asphaltic material arrives. Safety — Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today. Vodrey said the Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. is expected to send another shipment here in about 10 days.

The supply was exhausted Tuesday while street department crews were spreading material on North Side streets.

Tree Chopped Down To Extinguish Fire

MAYSVILLE, Ky. — Volunteers, neighbors and firemen responded when the top of an old locust tree caught fire and it appeared the blaze would threaten the Minerva Christian Church.

The ladders were too short to reach the top. The tree was chopped down and the fire doused quickly.

Chisox Only Contender To Win; Tribe Halts Orioles

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Baltimore Orioles were lucky if they can get out of the Cleveland Indians' eighth inning with the American League pennant.

The Indians edged the first-place Orioles 3-2 Wednesday night, scoring two runs in the eighth inning for the victory. The loss, coupled with Chicago's 2-1, 12-inning triumph over Minnesota, sliced Baltimore's lead to one percentage point over the second-place White Sox.

The victory, the Indians' sixth straight, increased their season edge over Baltimore to 10-5, making them the only team to hold an edge over the league leaders. More specifically, though, the Indians have won five of the last six games with Baltimore in the eighth inning.

A five-run outburst in the eighth Tuesday night brought Cleveland a 5-3 decision. Wednesday night's game was tied 1-1 going into the eighth. Slow-footed John Romano sent the tie-breaking run across with a two-out, two-strike bunt single, a surprise move he pulled on his own. Vic Davalillo followed with a run-scoring double. Explaining the rare squeeze bunt, Romano said: "I can't hit (relief pitcher Stu) Miller anyway, so I had to do something."

Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer, however, didn't have any explanation for the Indians' eighth-inning tactics.

Elsewhere in the AL, Washington blanked New York 2-0. Detroit defeated Boston 4-1 and Los Angeles knocked off Kansas City 5-2.

Norm Siebern slammed a homer for the Orioles in the eight, but they couldn't do any more scoring. A walk and singles by Earl Robinson and Russ Snyder had given Baltimore a 1-1 tie in the sixth and set the stage for the eighth-inning rally.

Don Buford singled home Gerry McNertney with Chicago's winning run in the 12th. McNertney led off the inning by reaching second base on a wild throw to first by the Twins' Rich Rollins. McNertney went to third on a passed ball and two walks later, trotted home.

Ed Fisher pitched the last three innings, holding the Twins hitless for his sixth victory in eight decisions.

The Yankees remained four games off the pace as Buster Narum stopped them on five hits. He outpitched Mel Stottlemyre, who lost his first game after winning three. The Senators scored both runs in the fifth, Mike Brumley coming home with the first on an infield grounder.

The Tigers' Dave Wickersham recorded his 16th victory in 25 decisions, hurling a five-hitter against the Red Sox. Don Demeter started a two-run rally in the sixth with a homer while Jerry Lumpe did the same in the seventh. Demeter's homer halted Bob Heffner's scoreless-inning string at 19 1-3.

Dick Green and Rocky Colavito clouted solo homers for the Athletics, but they weren't enough to offset the Angels' attack. Los Angeles scored three times in the fourth, the runs coming home on singles by Lou Clinton and Jim Perry and Bob Rodgers' sacrifice fly.

South Side Stars Capture Title

THIS HAPPY BUNCH of South Side players proudly show off their championship trophy after winning the championship in the Robinson Township Lions Club tournament Wednesday night. South Side was the best in the field of 40 teams which entered the event and defeated Bethel Park, 3-0, for the title.

Whittington's Two-Hit Job Tops Bethel

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor
The South Side Junior All-Stars reigned today as the champions of the Robinson Township Lions Club tournament following a brilliant 3-0 victory over Bethel Park Tuesday night.

Forty teams ages 11 to 12, from the Pittsburgh area entered this year's tourney but South Side emerged the winner last night behind the hard throwing Craig Whittington of Newell who hurled a two-hit shutout against the Bethel nine.

LAST NIGHT'S game ended a string of three outstanding pitching performances by Whittington who was not scored upon in three games or 18 innings and hurled one no-hitter in the tourney.

The champions marked the first for Manager William (Bud) Green's outfit who never got past their first game in other tournament starts but went all the way this time. South Side won five straight games to capture the title.

Whittington in allowing two singles, fanned 10 batters with his jet-like fastball as he overpowered the opposition. His control was perfect as he didn't allow one walk.

SOUTH SIDE took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when Larry Anderson led off with a walk, gained second on a throwing error by the centerfielder and moved to third on Vic Reed's single. Anderson scored the first run when Bethel attempted a double play going to first base first then throwing home but the South Side runner slid in ahead of the throw.

Whittington met his biggest challenge in the third inning when a hit and two errors loaded the bases with only one out. The big righthander proved his strength on the mound as he fanned the next two batters, which were Bethel's third and fourth hitters, to get out of the inning unharmed.

WHITTINGTON'S battery mate Jim Stine gave South Side two insurance runs in the fifth inning when he slapped a single to rightfield to drive in Larry Berger and Vic Reed who had got on base by a fielders choice.

South Side only collected three hits off the combined efforts of Dave Marshall and Mark Rausher. Marshall gave up one hit and four walks and was relieved by Rausher in the second inning. Rausher was more effective but gave up the key single to Stine.

The South Siders defense gave Whittington some fine backing including the game ending play when second baseman Larry Anderson speared a line drive which looked like a base hit and threw to first to double the runner off and end the contest.

A championship trophy was presented to the South Side team following the contest and players received individual trophies.

EVEN THOUGH his hat fell over his eyes, South Side's Larry Anderson knew where home plate was Wednesday night as he is shown sliding across with the first run of the game in the opening inning as Bethel catcher Ken Vance gets the throw too late. South Side went on to win the Lions Club tournament.

'Too Many Parasites' System Of Money Awards Needs Changed, Hogan Says

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP) — High finance on the pro tour has dulled the incentive of many golfers and turned them into parasites, Ben Hogan said today.

"It's not a matter of the big purses but the way the money is distributed," the four-time National Open winner said. "A fellow doesn't have to work on his game any more. All he has to do is show up for a tournament. He can finish far down the list, pick up a pretty good paycheck and make a comfortable living on the efforts of others.

"The money distribution system is all wrong. The big money should go to the leaders, the fellows such as Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Ken Venturi who are out there always struggling to improve their game. The couldn't-care-less fellows should get little or nothing."

Hogan, now 52 and returning to the Oakland Hills scene where he won the third of his Opens 13 years ago, failed to specify a particular tournament but he virtually drew a map of the $200,000 Carlin World Championship, beginning here today.

The sport's richest event has a prize list scaled down from $35,000 for first and $17,000 for second to $1,000-and-over for 36 places. Each of the 155 players teeing off, 48 of them from 13 foreign nations, is assured $400.

All the name players of the world are entered here, with Nicklaus bidding to nail down his position as the year's leading money winner ($99,000-plus) and Palmer, No. 2, and British Open champion Tony Lema, No. 3, in a position to take over though a victory.

Venturi, the National Open champion, is playing so superbly and with such confidence he has been made the No. 1 favorite.

Piersall Gives Kansas Fans Beatle Preview

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jimmie Piersall of the Los Angeles Angels gave Kansas City a preview of the Beatles Wednesday night.

Charles Finley, the owner of the Athletics, has hired the Beatles for a performance next month, and Piersall took the opportunity in the seventh inning to go into one of his routines.

As he strolled to the plate to bat, Piersall was wearing a Beatle wig.

Plate Umpire Frank Umont then held a small conference with the Los Angeles outfielder, and Piersall batted without the hairpiece.

Mets Darken Reds' Hopes; Giants Spilled By LA

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
The San Francisco Giants have to be in trouble when Juan Marichal threatens to strike and Willie Mays starts moonlighting.

Mays tried to hold down two jobs for the Giants Wednesday night, shuttling between center field and third base in a 2-1 loss to the Los Angeles Dodgers that dropped San Francisco 7½ games behind National League-leading Philadelphia.

But the big labor dispute revolved around Marichal, the ace right-hander of the Giants' staff who hoisted his placard and said he won't pitch before he feels he's ready.

"I don't want to take any chances any more," said Marichal, who has been bothered by a bad back, but made his first start since July 29 against the Dodgers Tuesday night. Marichal, who pitched five innings, said he didn't think he was ready to go, then added: "They wanted me to pitch. I'll tell you this: If it's still the same the next time, I won't pitch."

Manager Al Dark's comment was concise: "He'll pitch Sunday."

Where Mays will play is another question.

He started in center field against the Dodgers, but had to take over at third base in the second inning after Jim Ray Hart was struck in the head by a thrown ball while running from first base to second and was forced to leave the game.

Mays, who also has played first for the Giants this season, moved back to center field in the seventh inning, then returned to the infield again in the ninth as Dark constantly juggled his line-up in an attempt to get the Giants moving against Don Drysdale.

Drysdale, however, checked San Francisco on seven hits and came up the winner on Doug Camilli's run-producing single in the ninth.

The Phillies, meanwhile, rode Chris Short's six-hit pitching to a 6-1 victory over Milwaukee and built their bulge over second-place Cincinnati to seven games. The Reds were beaten by the New York Mets and Tracy Stallard's five-hit pitching, 3-1.

Elsewhere, Larry Jackson posted his 16th victory for Chicago with a six-hit, 3-1 triumph over Houston and rookie Mike Cuellar posted the first complete game of his major league career in St. Louis' 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh.

The Dodgers won it in the ninth for Drysdale on a single by Frank Howard, a ground out and an intentional walk to Nate Oliver that brought up Camilli. Camilli blooped a single to center giving Drysdale a 14-13 record while tagging Bob Hendley with the loss.

Short, bringing his record to 14-6 while lowering his earned run average to 1.70, snapped the Phillies out of their first two-game losing streak since July 26 with the support of four homers — two by Gus Triandos and one each by Ruben Amaro and Tony Gonzalez. Short was touched for a run in the ninth on a double by Joe Torre and Denny Menke's single.

Stallard, now 8-16, checked the Reds on four singles until Don Pavletich ruined his shutout bid with a seventh inning homer. Ed Kranepool drove in two of the Mets runs off Joey Jay, 9-9, with a fourth inning single and a sixth inning sacrifice fly. Ron Hunt drove in the final run with a seventh inning single.

Jackson, 16-10, kept the Colts from becoming the first NL team this season to win seven straight, losing his shutout on Nellie Fox' run-producing single in the sixth. Jackson received home run support from Ernie Banks, who hit his 16th, and Ron Santo, who connected for No. 25.

Cuellar, 5-3, was tagged for homers by Donn Clendenon and Gene Alley in the fifth, but the Cardinals pulled ahead 3-2 in their half on Lou Brock homer, a triple by Dick Groat and Ken Boyer's single.

Dawson's Win Amateur Play

A team captained by F. A. Dawson fired a 31-30-61 to make a one-stroke victory in the men's Amateur - Amateur tournament Wednesday at the East Liverpool Country Club.

The winning team consisted of Dawson, Dave Bowersock, Dick Crabbe and Ray Clendenning.

Second with a 62 was Everston Hall's team of Ted Kashuba, R. T. McDaniel and Bill Mayers. Five teams were tied for third with 63's.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Mets played two games in the outfield at age 40 for the 1931 Toledo Mud Hens of the American Association.

Rookie Kelly Could Make It With Browns

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Leroy Kelly is another in a promising crop of Cleveland Browns rookies who could make it in the National Football League.

The 6-foot, 203-pound offensive halfback was picked in the eighth round of the NFL draft last year. Later, coaches and scouts in the east told Browns' coach Blanton Collier he might have a "sleeper."

Kelly played college football at Morgan State in Baltimore, Md., and won the most valuable player award in the 1963 Orange Blossom Classic game in Miami, Fla. He won four football letters at Morgan State.

The Browns brought Kelly, 22, to Cleveland for a tryout and Collier liked his punting and speed but was a bit disappointed at his weight, 187 pounds.

The summer training camp diet added 16 pounds and Kelly is now one of the five regular running backs with Jim Brown, Charley Scales, Ken Webb and Ernie Green.

Some teams keep four backs as the Browns did last year. Others hang on to five. If Collier decides to go with five, Kelly is almost certain to have a job with the Browns this season.

Boxing Seen On Way Out, Greene Says

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Boxing is close to elimination as a major sports activity, Commissioner Abe J. Greene told the World Boxing Association convention today and urged that "we put it back on the sports pages in decency and take it out of the front page headlines of despair."

Greene said boxing had been a major factor in the development of television but now the last nationally shown boxing series is about to suspend while television time for other sports is on the increase.

He pointed out that the other sports controlled television but that "boxing gives itself away, a pure unadulterated patsy."

He said that the first step in the rehabilitation of the sport was to forget personal and interstate rivalries and to think in terms of the sport as a whole.

In 1964, New York state received $24,159,296 from harness racing at Yonkers Raceway. The city of Yonkers received $1,960,934.

'My Greatest Thrill'

1950 Game Stands Out In Mollenkopf's Mind

Jack Mollenkopf, author of the following, is head football coach at Purdue University. He graduated from Bowling Green State University in 1931, coached at Rossford and Toledo Waite high schools, founded the Ohio High School North-South All-Star game, went to Purdue as line coach in 1947, and took over the top job in 1955.

By JACK MOLLENKOPF
For The ASSOCIATED PRESS
What is my 'greatest thrill in sports'?

I like to think that I have not had that experience as yet. However, there are certain moments in my long association with football that do stand out above all others. There have been many games that brought great thrills, moments of extreme happiness, and plenty of disappointments.

Being pinned down to one particular contest, I suppose the greatest thrill came in the Purdue-Notre Dame game at South Bend on Oct. 7, 1950. I was line coach that year.

Notre Dame was riding the crest of a great string—39 games without defeat. Purdue was a decided underdog, and in the eyes of many—including a national TV audience—was considered just another pushover.

As our boys prepared for church the morning of the game, I noticed their concentration. They were a determined group.

When we arrived at the stadium to dress, the Purdue band was already on the scene. They, too, had an air of confidence, enthusiasm and determination.

While we dressed, the band stood outside raising an ear-splitting clamor, beating the big bass drum and chanting: "Are we gonna beat Notre Dame?"

"Heck, yes!" (only they didn't say "heck.")

We kicked off to Notre Dame, and I've never seen such a united effort covering a kick. We stopped the Irish on their first drive, and forced them to punt.

On our second play backfield Neil Schmidt broke over tackle for 73 yards and a touchdown—but officials ruled he stepped out of bounds and called the play back. But that didn't stop us for long—we marched right on for a touchdown without giving up the ball.

We scored two more before the half, and led the vaunted Irish 21-0 at the intermission. Notre Dame tried valiantly to get back in the game, and scored in each of the last two quarters to cut our margin to a single touchdown. But late in the game we scored the clincher on a long pass from quarterback Dale Samuels to halfback Mike Maciocci.

The touchdown was an odd one, in a way. Maciocci had the Irish secondary whipped, but dropped a long pass from Samuels. The same play was called on the next down, and this time it worked for a 56-yard score and a 28-14 win that cracked the Irish streak at 39 straight.

The win was not an individual effort, but a team, squad and band effort. It proved the heights to which we can rise if we all put our mind, energy and enthusiasm to the task.

This particular win helped establish a pattern over the last 15 years that has heard the Purdue teams of the era receive the nickname of "Spoilmakers"—during which the Boilmakers have scored some shocking upsets.

Included in the string were: 1949—Purdue 13, Minnesota 7; 1950—Purdue 28, Notre Dame 14; 1953—Purdue 6, Michigan State 0 (breaking 28-game winning streak); 1954—Purdue 27, Notre Dame 13; 1956—Purdue 28, Notre Dame 14; 1957—Purdue 20, Michigan State 13 (later the lone loss of year); and 1959—Purdue 29, Notre Dame 21. I'll never forget any of 'em.

Can Drive Defenders Dizzy

Browns Have 3 Receivers Who Can Run 100 In 9.6

HIRAM — William "Dub" Jones, the Cleveland Browns' assistant coach who tutors the offensive backs and ends and himself one of the great pass receivers in Browns' history, was talking here at the club's training camp about the fine crop of rookie pass receivers.

"In my early days with the Browns we thought we had three rather fast receivers in Dante Lavelli, Mac Speedie and myself because we could run the 100-yard dash in around 10 seconds," Jones stated.

"BUT NOW we have three fellows who can do the 100 in 9.6 seconds and they fly like scared rabbits. They're going to drive a lot of defensive backs dizzy before the year is up."

It is obvious in the Browns' last two pre-season victories over Los Angeles and Pittsburgh that the club has three exceptionally speedy new men in Paul Warfield, Clifton McNeil and Walter Roberts.

Add these to a group that already includes two big, strong receivers in veterans Gary Collins and John Brewer plus second year man Tom Hutchinson and you have quite a cast.

All National Football League Clubs have at least one or two star pass catchers but to have three or four very talented receivers is quite a luxury.

WARFIELD, the Browns' number one draft choice, caught three touchdowns passes in his initial appearance against the Rams and contributed a 61 aerial advance Saturday night against the Steelers in which he displayed not only his great speed but his elusive running after he catches the ball.

Ray Renfro, who retired this year after 12 years as an outstanding flanker with the Browns, spent almost four weeks at Hiram and the College All-Star camp working with Warfield.

"Paul not only has the dazzling speed which you look for in a flanker but he has moves that are very unusual for a rookie," Renfro has said. "I know that it took me two or three years to acquire the movements that Warfield already has mastered."

McNEIL, with one year of practical experience behind him as a member of the Browns' "taxi" squad in 1963, has been positively terrific in the past two games. Although he has caught but two passes, each was good for a long score. Against the Rams he eluded the secondary and went 91 yards to score and last Saturday, with the ball on the Browns' one yard line, he took a pass from Jim Ninowski and raced for a touchdown that netted 99 yards.

Roberts, at 165 pounds, is the smallest man on the roster, but the ex-San Jose State speedster has impressed coach Blanton Collier with his speed and determination.

"He's like a rabbit running loose in a wheat field," is one term Collier uses to describe Roberts who already has one 74-yard touchdown against the Rams to his credit.

WHILE it's much too early to speak in certainties, it is not too much to hope that from this trio will emerge performers who will help give the Browns their best aerial attack in several years.

Collins last year emerged as one of N.F.L.'s premier receivers when he caught 13 touchdowns passes to tie for league leadership in this department. He also eclipsed Lavelli's 16 year old club record of nine touchdowns passes.

If enemy defenders have to double team him or any of the rookies, then something should open up elsewhere. With a runner like Jim Brown around, who gained 1,863 yards last year, this could be devastating.

Handicap Time Begins At Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — The big money sign went up today at the 65th Grand American Trapshoot as the week-long clay target carnival moved into the handicap phase after three days of 16-yard events.

On tap today was the preliminary handicap, a 100-clay event in which the shooters, according to their averages or known ability, are stationed 18 to 27 yards behind the trap house from which the flying targets emerge.

This one has an entry fee of $45.50 and the marksmen can toss another $31 into the optional system under which he can wager on his own prowess against the field. The winner can pick up around $7,000, and about 2,300 from all over the country were scheduled to try for it.

Today's event is a dress rehearsal for the game's No. 1 event, the Grand American Handicap, scheduled Friday.

The 16-yard competition ended Wednesday with Buford C. Bailey of Big Springs, Neb., capturing the big prize — the North American Clay Target Championship.

The Nebraska, 39-year-old Nebraskan, who has an 18,000-acre ranch, broke 200 straight to tie 31-year-old Russ Saathoff, a dairyman from Niles, Mich., and 34-year-old John E. Cain III, a building contractor from Nashville, Tenn.

Bailey cracked 75 straight in a shootout to take the title with Saathoff breaking 72 of 75 for second place and Cain 24 of 25 for third.

Casey Thought Mets, Reds Were At Convention

CINCINNATI (AP) — Casey Stengel, the agile-minded manager of the New York Mets, discussed courtesy and politics along with baseball Wednesday night after his club defeated Cincinnati 3-1.

"I thought we were at the political (Democratic) convention in Atlantic City one time there," Stengel said.

He was referring to an incident in the sixth inning when the Mets were at bat.

Reds' pitcher Joey Jay had thrown a quick one to the plate with Ron Hunt at bat. The umpire called it no pitch. Jay tipped his cap to Hunt.

"I thought we were at the convention," Stengel said, with a grin. "Buy maybe CBS is getting 'em to be more friendly."

Columbia Broadcasting System recently purchased majority stock of the New York Yankees.

Bauer Almost Faced Long Banishment By Umpire

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — But for the intersection of a veteran umpire, Baltimore's Hank Bauer, a top candidate for Manager of the Year honors, might be on the outside looking in today. He came perilously close to facing a lengthy banishment.

The incident took place May 22 in Baltimore's Memorial Stadium during a game between the Orioles and Minnesota Twins.

Bauer became embroiled in a heated argument with plate umpire Al Salerno over a beanball incident.

"It was a case of two hot heads getting together," Bauer recalled. "I blew my top and called him every name I could think of. If Hank Soar, the senior umpire, hadn't stepped in, I'm sure I would have hit Salerno and probably been suspended for the rest of the year. The next day I thanked Soar."

The gravel-voiced Bauer looks every inch the Marine sergeant he was during World War II but despite his reputation for toughness, he is a gentle, easy-to-approach fellow. He's only been ejected twice this year, both times by Salerno.

"As a rule, I don't argue much with umpires," said the 42-year-old Bauer. "I never gave them any trouble as a player. But a manager has to protect his players. Otherwise he might as well remain in the clubhouse."

Bauer was once described as having a face that resembles a clenched fist. He smiles when he's reminded of it.

"I know I've got that reputation," he said, "but really I'm a nice guy. When I took this job, I was told, 'Be tough, be mean. These guys need discipline.'"

"Actually I haven't had to mean or tough. I've had no trouble all year. They've been real good. They've been hustling from the first day."

Bauer makes no pretensions about being a masterminding genius.

"I believe in letting the players play the game," he said. "I think the worst thing in the world is over-managing. I believe in relegating authority to the coaches. Even to some players. For example, Luis Aparicio has a free hand in the infield."

"I think the most important thing in managing is getting the respect of the players. Second is handling your pitching staff. As for the other things, everybody plays percentage. You gamble when you're ahead."

Like all managers, Bauer hates to lose, but he rarely takes the game home with him.

"I've never second guessed myself on any move I've ever made," he said. "Everything I do, no matter how it turns out, I have a reason for."

"Sure I get keyed up in a game and I need some time to relax after a game. Sometimes it's tough to fall asleep. But I don't go into tantrums after a tough loss."

"I may fret some time but I never let on to the players. They take their cue from the manager. A relaxed team is a better team."

NFO In Ohio Pledges To Continue Boycott

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — National Farmers Organization leaders in Ohio have promised to continue their boycott of livestock markets in an effort to win minimum price guarantees.

But Ohio members will ease up on picketing and demonstrations, leaders said Wednesday.

The decision to cut down the demonstrations came at the suggestion of Oren Lee Staley, the NFO's national president in Iowa.

Ohio members will continue to withhold their cattle and at the same time keep up their observation of livestock markets to determine cattle receipts.

Jim Honochick and Joe Paparella have worked in four World Series each, more than any other current American League umpire.

Fullback Is Big Problem To LA

ORANGE, Calif. (AP) — Fullback is the big problem with the Los Angeles Rams who are rebuilding around a solid defensive line and a fast-improving quarterback, Roman Gabriel.

"We expect to improve on last year, largely because our quarterback, Gabriel, will have more experience," said Svare at the Rams' camp.

The Rams lost their first five games last fall. Then they turned around and won five of their next seven beating San Francisco twice and Detroit, Baltimore and Minnesota once each. The word around the National Football League was that the Rams were to be feared in 1964.

Ben Wilson's decision to pass up pro football for dentistry after a fine rookie year left a gaping hole at the fullback position.

Svare has been switching his backs around, trying to come up with a replacement for Wilson.

Profile Of Johnson

Now Wants To Be Candidate Of All The People

By FRANK CORMIER
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson, who often refers to himself as "president of all the people," now wants to be candidate of all the people.

Any attempt to assess the campaign tactics of the just-nominate Democratic standard bearer is apt to founder unless weighed against Johnson's aim to claim the broad middle ground on the political battlefield and appeal to just about everyone.

In his contest with Sen. Barry Goldwater, Johnson will try to picture the Republican presidential nominee as being far removed from the mainstream of American political thought.

As Senate Democratic leader and during nine months as president, he has sought to represent a broad consensus of attitudes on key issues. He made it his stated policy nearly three months ago.

Addressing the graduating class at the University of Texas, Johnson said the American people share the same deep desires for peace, justice and a better life.

"This is the real voice of America," he asserted. "And it is one of the great tasks of political leadership to make our people aware of this voice, aware that they share a fundamental unity of interest and purpose and belief."

This was a prepared-in-advance speech, which added something to the significance of his next words:

"I am going to try and do this. And on the basis of this unity, I intend to try and achieve a broad national consensus which can end obstruction and paralysis, and can liberate the energies of the nation for the work of the future."

However, lest anyone get the idea from this that Johnson plans a nonpartisan campaign, it is well to recall his off-the-cuff remarks at a Democratic fund-raising dinner in Minneapolis, Minn., on June 27.

From the moment he became president last Nov. 22 upon the assassination of John F. Kennedy, Johnson has energetically sought the backing of all segments of the populace.

More than any Democrat in recent decades, Johnson has achieved a signal success in wooing influential business leaders. Henry Ford II is a notable example. This auto magnate never before backed a Democrat for the presidency, but he's backing Johnson.

Any attempt to build a consensus inevitably involves a delicate balancing act — something at which Johnson is an old hand.

But if Johnson now has friends that would have seemed unlikely nine months ago, he also has lost friends.

Although his steadfast support for the civil rights cause has cost him some support, he is counting on his personal assessment that the ideal of racial justice is supported by the great majority of voters. And he rarely fails to appeal directly to those who resist the idea.

Racial justice is a key goal of Johnson's Great Society which, he says, would bring "abundance and liberty for all."

The Great Society also represents the better life—"a place where every family has a roof over its head, a rug on the floor, a picture on the wall and a little music in the house."

And he is deeply committed to his antipoverty program, which Goldwater has labeled a vote-getting scheme.

There are other Great Society proposals, too, that surely will be debated during the campaign: health insurance for the aged, aid to education, expanded minimum wage coverage; in fact, a broad gamut of social measures. And the Republicans have made it clear that they will be talking about foreign policy.

Greater stress on economy in government is one of the personal touches that Johnson has added to the program he inherited from Kennedy. The poverty program also was fashioned under his direction.

He undertook at least one other major initiative in the domestic field: his efforts, successful against great odds, to avert the threat of a national rail strike last winter.

Yet Johnson has expended much of his energy in behalf of inherited measures: the biggest tax cut in history, the broadest civil rights law in a century and a variety of lesser items.

For the early enactment of these, Johnson can claim much of the credit.

In foreign affairs, Johnson swung into 1964 promising an "unrelenting peace offensive."

This has yet to bear significant fruit. At midyear, he spent a lot of time trying to avert war over Cyprus between Greece and Turkey.

And, throughout the year, he wrestled with other crises — and more ominous ones — in Laos and Viet Nam, as well as flare-ups in Panama and Cuba.

Have nine months in the White House changed Lyndon Baines Johnson? There are small signs of change.

Johnson's off-repeated rallying cry during the early months — "I need your help" — has been muted of late. Whether this reflects a more sure-footed Johnson or simply the passing of a time of national crisis isn't entirely clear.

In one respect, Johnson almost surely has changed. He seems less sensitive to press criticism than was the case earlier in the year.

Johnson's progress has been onward and upward since he first went to Washington in 1931 as secretary to a Texas House member.

And success has followed him in his private life. He and his family have managed to amass a fortune listed at $3,484,000. The figure comes from a report drawn up at his direction by an accounting firm. Published estimates of the Johnson family fortune have ranged as high as $14 million.

Some Republican campaigners are focusing on these figures. And some of them have been hearkening to Johnson's ties with Bobby Baker, his old friend and onetime protégé whose financial dealings have been castigated by Senate investigators.

Johnson was not born to wealth. And he likes to remind audiences of his modest beginnings. He talks often about being the son of a tenant farmer, usually failing to mention that his father also was a school-teacher and five-term member of the Texas Legislature.

Johnson sees himself as a man of the people who understands their needs and wants and who can lead them into the Promised Land of the Great Society.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

Hello, Cara; Hello, Tina

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. There's a song that the people on the set of "The Cara Williams Show" tend to hum as they work. It's "Hello, Dolly," only the words they're thinking are "Hello, Cara."

A few of the lines have been changed, too, including: "Hunt Stromberg says you're class, cutie; This show is gonna last, cutie; but that's what he told Judy and Dick Boone..."

THE HOPES are high, of course, that this new CBS-TV comedy will repeat the success of a former Cara Williams series, "Pete and Gladys," which has been on reruns since the McKinley administration; and I wouldn't be at all surprised if it doesn't.

I've been watching the little green-eyed redhead at work and she is, every nerve end of her, a professional.

She is pleased the show has a simple premise ("Doesn't Dick Van Dyke's Danny Thomas?") — namely, the office adventures of a slightly added file clerk who is married to a co-worker, played by Frank Aletter.

But she has her trepidations, too: "When you haven't worked for a couple of seasons, like me, the tendency is to think the new show has got to be the biggest bomb that ever happened."

IN THOSE two years, she said, she went to furniture auctions (she loves them) and avoided the backyard pool (she freckles).

"Yah, I'm a freckler," she says glumly, "and without makeup, I swear I'm the homeliest thing you ever saw. A fried egg."

And, of course, no one believes a word of it.

She bounces about the sound stage, frisking through her lines or helping another actor memorize his, then ruining a take because she can't help but laugh at the mad look on Paul Reed's face. She's no problem to a director, obviously, though she thinks she is.

"An actress is always trouble to a director," she says. "If she speaks up, it's a woman telling a man what to do. So I try to argue very femininely, never putting my foot down. And sometimes I win, too."

WHAT KIND of girl is she essentially?

"Messy," she says. "My ex-husband dropped in at the house the other day, took one look at the pile of stuff in the living room and the piece of wood I've had in the broken window for six months, and said, 'Most people hide their illnesses.'"

The little green-eyed redhead howled.

Deserting one redhead for another, we moved on to a set where Tina Louise stood in considerable splendor in a tattered evening gown amid the ferns and breadfruit of a tropical paradise.

The series here is "Gilligan's Island," a CBS venture about a band of merry castaways, led by Bob Conrad, late of "Dobie Gillis." Jim Backus, as a num-headed millionaire, and Miss Louise, as a movie starlet. Hello, Tina.

BACKUS, wearing a battered straw hat and a dirty linen suit, came down the jungle path to tell me about his role.

"I'm the richest man in the world, Thurston Howell III, who's closely related to the Hubert Updike I used to play on radio with Alan Young," he said.

"He has the same Ivy League accent and attitudes. I insist, in the jungle, upon dressing for dinner. I practice my golf putting on the beach, using an avocado pit for a ball. And when someone comes running, hollering 'The Marubis are coming!' I say, 'I don't care who they are. They're not playing through.'"

Has Backus liked the millionaires he's met? "Fine fellows," he said. "The middle class is the unusually dull group. I've decided. I'm for extreme poverty or extreme wealth. I suppose I'm for a monarchy at heart, with me as king."

THIS EVENTUALITY is not, of course, too difficult to imagine, since Backus already owns the 1964-65 TV season. He's starring in "Gilligan" and the new "Mr. Magoo" series as well.

One of the crew began hosing down the set for action. Near a cave where a rock slide had just occurred, a carpenter called out, "Boyd, let's nail up these rocks here."

And the makeup man was swinging a bag of dirt at Miss Louise's clavicle. "Don't miss up that dame," cried Backus; "she belongs to the American people."

How Can I?
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I make vine supports on a concrete wall without the trouble of drilling into the concrete?

A.—Try pressing dabs of plastic wood at intervals on the concrete wall. This is weather-proof and waterproof, and will adhere firmly to the stone, brick, or concrete. When the plastic wood has hardened, staples can be driven into it for holding your guide wires or string.

Q.—How can I treat a white garment that has been scorched while ironing it?

A.—Rub the spot immediately with a cloth dipped in diluted peroxide, then run the iron over it, and it will usually be as white as ever.

Q.—How can I add a glossy effect to newly-washed wood work?

A.—Add two tablespoons of furniture polish to each quart of your rinsing water. After rinsing with this solution, wipe the surface with a dry cloth.

Q.—Please tell me how I can clean such plaster ornaments as small statues, busts, vases, and the like?

A.—One easy way is to dip them into a solution of starch and water, and let them dry, then brush them off.

Junior Editors Quiz on

QUESTION: Why do boys' coats button on the left?

ANSWER: We should be glad we don't live in the old days when dueling was a fashion and men went around carrying long swords and daggers as well. Apparently the possession of such weapons tended to make their owners' tempers short; for stories from those days tell of hot-headed cavaliers whipping out their swords in trifling provocation. The clothes of the time were heavy and cumbersome and tended to interfere with a man's sword arm when he wanted to get his weapon out in a hurry. Buttons had become widely used, so clothes and capes were made to button with the left side over-lapping the right. With such an arrangement, as our picture suggests, our ancestors could unbutton their capes with the left hand while reaching for their swords with the right. Once a fashion is strongly established it may go on for years after the original need for it has disappeared. We men do not carry swords, but we do carry on the tradition of earlier days, by still buttoning our coats with the left side overlapping the right.

FOR YOU TO DO: Notice that while boy's and mens' coats button on the left, women's coats button on the right.

Betty Steele of Coatesville, Pa., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

OSU Experts Watch Antarctica 'Stretch'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University experts have a new project — watching Antarctica stretch.

The "stretch" of the surface ice sheet is being measured by the university's Institute of Polar Studies and the U.S. Geological Survey's Topographic Division. The sheet is estimated to grow a half inch per mile each year. Dr. Richard L. Cameron, the project's supervisor, says the measurements would give a better understanding of flow mechanisms and the rate of flow on the ice sheet.

Second Retirement Lacks First's Fanfare

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Carl C. Krankel retired recently for the second time but without the fanfare he received eight years ago. In 1956, he became the 8,000,000th American to draw Social Security when he went into partial retirement after 28 years with a candy firm. Krankel, now 74, says his main interest now will be in growing roses. Women make up about 33 percent of the labor force in the U.S.

There are seven senses, instead of the traditional five, which are now attributed to man by some students of the subject. In addition to the five senses of sight, smell, hearing, touch and taste, these people now add the senses of resistance and temperature. Elizabeth Griscom was better known as Betsy Ross. B'nai Brith is Hebrew for "The Son of the Covenant".

ATTENTION: Certain Cosmetics, Luggage and Bags plus 10% tax. SPECIAL PRICES effective thru Saturday, August 27th, 1964. Right reserved to limit quantities.
